Subject: [Fwd: Microsoft kills Real World/Great Plains Classic]

Reaf World Classic is a "COBOL" accounting running on many platforms Unix/Ibm Aix / Dos and many others (i.e. any os which has Mico Focus Cobol).
Great Plains Bought Real World.
Micro soft bought Great Plains in 2001.
Microsoft scrapping Classic accounting package.
Microsoft only option to 20,000 customers is you must at extrem expense convert to windows based packages?
